

JOB JOBSE

Some people have no doubt about it: being a DJ is all they want to do. After learning the ropes at Amsterdam's legendary club 11, Job Jobse began his adventure into electronic music with an internship at the renowned Innervisions label in Berlin. After moving back to Amsterdam to work at the famous Trouw, things went uphill very fast. Holding an own successful residency at the club – Drukpers, the first party ever held at the venue – and being active as the label manager for the popular Italian Life and Death label. With all this so far and a current heavy touring schedule, including appearances spanning from Burning Man to Panorama Bar, one can only wonder where he will go next.
